Military Expenditures of the United States of America, Fiscal Year 2005
In Accordance with the United Nations Instrument for Standard International Reporting

(In millions of U.S. dollars at current prices; for fiscal year ending September 30.)

The military expenditures (actual outlays) are of the individual military departments (Army, Navy, Air Force) and the defense agencies within the Department of Defense, as well as the Department of Energy (for defense nuclear programs) and the Department of Homeland Security (for defense-related activities). Civil defense expenditures are those for non-defense-related activities from the Department of Homeland Security budget, since fiscal year 2002. (Prior to fiscal year 1995, civil defense expenditures were from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) budget.)

These expenditures are entered for each force group in the UN instrument as follows:

- Strategic Forces (column 1): These forces do not have a separate service or military department in the United States; therefore, spending data are not readily available for them. All resources for strategic offensive, defensive, and command, control & communications forces are contained in the budgets of the Air Force, Navy, and Army.
- Army Forces (column 2): The budget of the Department of the Army.
- Navy/Marine Forces (col. 3): The budget of the Department of the Navy, including the Navy and the Marine Corps.
- Air Force (column 4): The budget of the Department of the Air Force.
- Other Combat Forces (col. 5): Not Applicable -- all active and reserve military forces are financed from the above military service budgets.
- Central Support & Administration:
- Agencies (column 6): The budgets of the defense agencies (Office of the Secretary of Defense, Defense Logistics Agency, Defense Information Systems Agency, Defense Contract Audit Agency, etc.) which provide defense-wide support and general administration.
- Other (column 7): Special defense-wide programs that do not normally fall under military departments or defense agencies (e.g., environmental restoration, support of World Games, etc.).
- Paramilitary (column 8): Not applicable.
- Military Assistance:
- Home (column 9): Not applicable.
- Abroad (column 10): Includes foreign military financing, economic support fund, and other programs in the category "international security assistance" in the Budget of the United States Government, Fiscal Year 2007.
- UN (column 11): Includes outlays for support of United Nations peacekeeping forces.
- Undistributed (column 12): Department of Energy: outlays of the National Nuclear Security Administration, environmental and other defense activities. Since fiscal year 2002, also includes Department of Homeland Security outlays for defense-related activities, including Coast Guard, Emergency Preparedness, and Information Analysis & Infrastructure Protection, and Science and Technology.
- Civil Defense (column 14): Beginning fiscal year 2002, the Department of Homeland Security outlays, excluding defense-related outlays included in military expenditures. Prior to 1995, FEMA programs that received separate funding for civil defense activities. (FEMA did not program separate funding for civil defense activities from 1995 forward. It was incorporated into the new Department of Homeland Security in 2002.)
