

ARRANGEMENT OF SECTIONS

Section

PART I
PRELIMINARY

1. Short title.
2. Commencement.
3. Interpretation.

PART II
DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

4. Domestic Violence Prohibited.
5. Meaning of Domestic Violence.

PART III
PROTECTION AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Injunctions and Protection Orders

6. Application for an injunction or a protection order.
7. Grant of an injunction or a protection order.
8. Grant of an injunction or a protection order on an ex parte application.
9. Application for an occupation order.
10. Grant of occupation order.
11. Effect of occupation order.
12. Grant of occupation order on an ex parte application.
13. Application for tenancy orders.
14. Grant of tenancy orders.
15. Effect of tenancy order.
16. Grant of a tenancy order on an ex parte application.
17. Revesting order.
18. Rehabilitation orders.

PART IV
MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

19. Conduct of proceedings.
20. Criminal proceedings may be concurrent.
21. Restriction of publication of reports of proceedings.
22. Evidence.
23. Standard of proof.
24. Form of service of injunction and protection order.
25. Service other than personal service.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS—CONT'D

26. Breach of injunctions and protection orders.
27. Arrest without warrant.
28. Issue of warrant.
30. Conditions on which bail may be granted.
31. Orders by consent.
32. Counselling.
33. Appeals.
34. Protection of mortgagee.
35. Assistance to victims of domestic violence.
36. Preparing of reports.
37. Role of Ministry in alleviating domestic violence.
38. Rules of Court.
39. Jurisdiction.
40. Ownership of Property.
41. Regulations.

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

(ii) who resides in that household residence on a regular basis, or

(iii) who of whom either the man or woman is a guardian;

“court” means court of competent jurisdiction, but where a family court is established by legislation it shall mean the family court;

“de facto spouse” in relation to a person, means a person of the opposite sex to the first-mentioned person, who is living with the first-mentioned person as the person’s husband or wife although not legally married to the first-mentioned person;

“dependant” in relation to a person includes a person

(a) who is over the age of eighteen years; and

(b) who normally resides or resided on a regular basis with the first-mentioned person;

“domestic violence offence” means a prescribed offence committed by a person against

(a) a spouse of the person;

(b) a child or dependant of the person or of a spouse of the person; or

(c) a parent;

“ex parte application” means an application made without notice to the respondent;

“household residence” means.

(a) in relation to both spouses, the dwelling house that is used habitually by both spouses or either of them as the only or principal family residence together with any land, buildings or improvements appurtenant thereto and wholly or mainly used for the purposes of the household;

(b) in relation to a man or a woman who are no longer spouses, the dwelling that was last used, habitually, by either of them, before or after they ceased to be spouses, as the only or principal family residence, together with any land, buildings or improvements appurtenant thereto and used wholly or mainly for the purposes of the household;

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

“Minister” means the Minister responsible for Women’s Affairs, but where a Ministry of Gender Affairs is established Minister shall mean the Minister responsible for Gender Affairs;

“occupation order” means an order made under section 10 or 12 of this Act;

“parent” means

- (a) the parent or grandparent of a spouse;
- (b) the parent or grandparent of respondent, either by consanguinity or affinity;

“prescribed offence” means any of the following:

- (a) use of violence or threatening to use violence;
- (b) causing physical or mental injury;
- (c) coercion;
- (d) molestation;
- (e) arbitrary deprivation of liberty;
- (f) an offence under section 5 of the Juvenile Act;

Chapter 39.

“prescribed person” means the spouse of the respondent, a parent or a child or a dependant of the spouse;

“spouse” includes a former spouse, de facto spouse and former de facto spouse;

“protection order” means an order made under section 7 or 8 of this Act;

“respondent” means a person against whom an injunction or order is granted pursuant to this Act;

“tenancy order” means an order made under section 14 or 16 of this Act;

“tenant”, in relation to any dwelling house, includes any person

- (a) whose tenancy has expired or has been determined; and
- (b) who is for the time being deemed under any enactment or rule of law to continue to be the tenant of household residence, and the term tenancy has the corresponding meaning.

*The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 - 3.PART II
DOMESTIC VIOLENCEDomestic violence prohibited.

4. (1) No person shall engage in any conduct that constitute domestic violence.

(2) A person who engages in any conduct that constitute domestic violence commits a domestic violence offence, and shall be proceeded against in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Meaning of domestic violence.

5. For the purposes of this Act, conduct that constitute domestic violence include

- (a) violence that results in or is likely to result in
  - (i) physical harm,
  - (ii) sexual suffering, or
  - (iii) psychological suffering;
- (b) threats of violence;
- (c) coercion;
- (d) arbitrary deprivation of liberty;
- (e) molestation;
- (f) conduct of an offensive or harassing nature;
- (g) conduct which amounts to psychological abuse, intimidation or persecution.

PART III
PROTECTION AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE*Injunction and Protection OrdersApplication for an injunction or a protection order.

6. (1) An application for an injunction or a protection order against domestic violence may be made to a court where a person is subjected or is about to be further subjected to domestic violence.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) of this section an application for an injunction or a protection order may be made by any of the following persons:

- (a) the spouse of the respondent;
- (b) where the alleged conduct involves a child or a dependant,
  - (i) a person with whom the child or dependant normally resides or resides on a regular basis,
  - (ii) a parent or guardian of the child,
  - (iii) a parent or guardian of the dependant,

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

- (iv) in case the dependant is not mentally disabled, the dependant,
- (v) a person experienced or qualified in social welfare and approved by the Minister or a trained person approved by the Minister,
- (vi) a police officer,
- (vii) a person holding the office or performing the duties of a probation officer or medical social worker.

7. (1) The court may, upon hearing an application submitted to it under the provisions of subsection (1) of section 6 of this Act, grant an injunction or order, as the case may be, if it is satisfied that,

Grant of an injunction or a protection order.

- (a) the respondent is engaged or is about to engage in conduct that constitute domestic violence;
- (b) the injunction or order, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, is necessary for the protection of a prescribed person.

(2) An injunction or a protection order granted under the provisions of subsection (1) of this section may prohibit the respondent

- (a) from entering or remaining in the household residence of any prescribed person;
- (b) from entering or remaining in any area specified in the injunction or protection order, being an area in which the household residence of a prescribed person is located;
- (c) from entering the place of work or place of education of any prescribed person;
- (d) from entering or remaining in any place where a prescribed person happens to be;
- (e) from subjecting a prescribed person to any conduct that constitute domestic violence.

(3) The court may, if it thinks fit, make provision in an injunction or a protection order for a power of arrest.

8. (1) The court may, upon application, grant an injunction or a protection order, as the case may be, if it is satisfied that the delay that would be caused by proceeding on notice would or might entail

Grant of an injunction or a protection order on an ex parte application.

- (a) risk to the personal safety of a prescribed person;
- (b) serious injury or undue hardship to the prescribed person.

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

- (c) prescribing the form of injunction, and any order required to be made under this Act.

WALFORD V. GUMBS
Speaker

Passed by the National Assembly this 11th day of January 2000.

F. ALPONSO LEWIS
Clerk of the National Assembly

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 - 3.

(2) An injunction or protection order granted under subsection (1) of this section shall be of an interim nature, and the respondent may at anytime apply to the court to have the injunction or protection order, as the case may be, discharged.

Occupation Orders

Application for an occupation order

9. (1) An application for an occupation order may be made to the court where a prescribed person is granted a protection order under this Act.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) of this section an application for an occupation order may be made by any of the persons specified in subsection (2) of section 6 of this Act.

Grant of
occupation order

10. (1) Upon receipt of the application referred to in subsection (1) of section 9 of this Act, the court may make an occupation order granting a prescribed person the right to live in the household residence of the respondent if it is necessary for the protection or is in the best interest of a prescribed person.

(2) An occupation order may be granted for such period, and on such terms and conditions as the court thinks fit.

(3) Before granting an occupation order under subsection (1) of this section, the court shall direct that notice be given to any person who has an interest in the property that is to be affected by the occupation order.

(4) The person referred to in subsection (3) of this section shall, after the notice has been served on him, be heard in the matter of the application for the occupation order as a party to that application.

Effect of
occupation order

11. (1) The prescribed person to whom the occupation order relates shall be entitled, to the exclusion of the respondent, personally to occupy the household residence to which the occupation order relates.

(2) Where the household residence in respect of which the occupation order is made is being rented by the respondent then the court shall order the respondent to continue paying the rent for the duration the occupation order remains in force.

Grant of
occupation order
on an ex parte
application.

12. (1) The court may, upon an ex parte application, grant an occupation order if it is satisfied that

- (a) the respondent has used violence against, or caused physical, or mental injury to a prescribed person; and
- (b) the delay that would be caused by proceeding on notice could or might expose the prescribed person to physical injury.

(2) An occupation order granted under subsection (1) of this section shall be of an interim nature, and the respondent may at any time apply to the court to vary or discharge the order.

(3) An occupation order made on an ex parte application while the prescribed person and the respondent are living together in the same household residence shall expire on the discharge of the order by the court or at the expiration of a period of seven days from the date on which the occupation order is made.

Tenancy Orders

13. (1) An application for a tenancy order may be made to the court where a prescribed person is granted a protection order under this Act.

Application for tenancy orders.

(2) An application for a tenancy order made under this section may be made by any of the persons specified in subsection (2) of section 6 of this Act.

14. (1) Upon receipt of the application referred to in subsection (1) of section 13 of this Act, the court may grant a tenancy order vesting in the prescribed person the tenancy of any dwelling house which, at the time of granting the order,

Grant of tenancy orders.

(a) the respondent is either the sole tenant, or a tenant holding jointly, or a tenant holding in common with the prescribed person; and

(b) is the household residence of the prescribed person or the respondent.

(2) Subject to subsections (3) and (4) of this section the court may grant a tenancy order if it is satisfied that the order is necessary for the protection or is in the best interest of the prescribed person.

(3) Before granting a tenancy order under subsection (1) of this section, the court shall direct that notice be given to any person who has an interest in the property that is to be affected by the tenancy order.

(4) The person referred to in subsection (3) of this section shall, after the notice has been served on him, be entitled to appear and be heard in the matter of the application for the tenancy order as a party to that application.

15. (1) Upon the grant of a tenancy order, the prescribed person shall, unless the tenancy is sooner determined, become the tenant of the household residence subject to the terms and conditions of the tenancy in force at the time of the making of the order, and the respondent shall cease to be the tenant.

Effect of tenancy order.

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

(2) A tenancy order shall have effect and shall be enforced as if it were an order of the court for possession of the land granted in favour of the prescribed person.

(3) Nothing in this Act or in a tenancy order shall

- (a) limit or affect the operation of any enactment or rule of law for the time being applicable to a tenancy to which a tenancy order applies, or to the household residence held under the tenancy; or
- (b) authorise the court to vary, except by vesting the tenancy pursuant to this section, or revesting the tenancy pursuant to section 17 of this Act, any express, or implied term, or condition of the tenancy.

Grant of tenancy order on an ex parte application.

16. (1) The court may, upon an ex parte application, grant a tenancy order if it is satisfied that

- (a) the respondent has used violence against, or caused physical or mental injury to a prescribed person; and
- (b) the delay that would be caused by proceeding on notice could or might expose the prescribed person to physical injury.

(2) A tenancy order granted under subsection (1) of this section shall be of an interim nature, and the respondent may at any time apply to the court to vary or discharge the order.

(3) A tenancy order which is made on an ex parte application while the prescribed person and the respondent are living together in the same household residence shall expire on the discharge of the order by the court or at the expiration of a period of seven days from the date on which the order is made.

Revesting order.

17. (1) The court may, upon the application

- (a) of the prescribed person or the respondent; or
- (b) of the personal representative of the prescribed person or the respondent, make a revesting order revesting the tenancy in the respondent.

(2) Upon the making of a revesting order, the respondent shall, unless the tenancy is sooner determined, become the tenant of the household residence subject to the terms and conditions of that tenancy.

Rehabilitation orders

Rehabilitation orders.

18. (1) Where a person is convicted of an offence under this Act, the court may, instead of imposing a sentence, make a rehabilitation order requiring the convicted person to undergo probation in a re-education programme or rehabilitation programme.

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

(2) A rehabilitation order shall only be made under the following circumstances:

- (a) where the person is a first time offender under this Act and has no previous convictions for such offences;
- (b) where the convicted person has not previously breached any order made under this Act; or
- (c) where a suitable programme of education and training is available for such persons.

(3) The court shall, before making a rehabilitation order under this section, have regard to any submission and representations by the prosecution and the defence.

(4) A rehabilitation order may be made subject to such conditions as the court may think fit to impose.

(5) Where the person in respect of whom a rehabilitation order is made fails to comply with the conditions attached to the order, the court may, after holding an inquiry, terminate the rehabilitation order and pass sentence in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

PART IV
MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

19. (1) No person shall be present during the hearing of any proceedings under this Act except

- (a) officers of the court;
- (b) parties to the proceedings;
- (c) Counsel of each party to the proceedings;
- (d) any other person permitted by the court to be present.

(2) Any witness shall leave the courtroom if requested to do so by the court.

(3) Nothing in this section shall limit any other power of the court to hear proceedings in camera or to exclude any person from the court.

20. Where a person is charged with a domestic violence offence and an application for a protection order is before the court, the court may exercise its power to grant the order, notwithstanding that the offence for which the person is charged and the application for the protection order arises out of the same conduct.

Conduct of proceedings.

Criminal proceedings may be concurrent.

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 - 3.

Restriction of publication of reports of proceedings.

21. (1) Subject to subsection (4), no person shall publish any report of proceedings under this Act, except with the leave of the court which heard the proceedings.

(2) Any person who contravenes subsection (1) of this section commits an offence and is liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars.

(3) Nothing in this section limits

(a) the provisions of any other enactment relating to the prohibition or regulation of the publication of reports or particulars relating to judicial proceedings; or

(b) the power of the Court to punish any contempt of Court.

(4) This section shall not apply to the publication of any report in any publication that

(a) is of a bona fide professional or technical nature; or

(b) is intended for circulation among members of the legal or medical professions, officers of the public service, psychologists, marriage counsellors or social welfare workers.

Evidence.

22. (1) In any proceedings under this Act, except criminal proceedings, the court may receive such evidence as it thinks fit whether it is otherwise admissible in a court of law or not.

(2) Subject to section 19 of this Act, the rules of evidence that apply to criminal proceedings shall apply to any criminal proceedings conducted under this Act.

Standard of proof.

23. Every question of fact arising in any proceedings under this Act, except criminal proceedings, shall be decided on a balance of probabilities.

Form of service of injunction and protection order.

24. (1) Where an injunction or protection order is made or varied by the court, the clerk shall arrange for an injunction or order in the prescribed form to be formally drawn up and filed in the court.

(2) A copy of an injunction or order made under subsection (1) of this section shall be served

(a) personally on the respondent;

(b) on any other person who was a party to the proceedings;

(c) on a police officer not below the rank of Sergeant in the district of the court in which the order was made; and

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

- (d) on the police officer in charge of the police station nearest the prescribed person to whom the order relates, by the applicant or his agent.

25. Where it appears to the court that it is not reasonably practicable to serve a copy of an application for an injunction or protection order personally, the court may

Service other than personal service.

- (a) order that the copy of the application for the injunction or protection order or the copy of the injunction or protection order, be served by such other means as the court thinks just; or
- (b) make an order for substituted service.

26. Where an injunction or protection order, whether interim or not, is made and served on the respondent, and the respondent contravenes the order in any respect, then the respondent commits an offence and is, on conviction, liable to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months or both.

Breach of injunctions or protection order.

27. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, where an injunction or protection order is in force, a constable may, without a warrant, arrest a person whom the constable reasonably believes has committed a breach of an injunction or order referred to in this section.

Arrest without warrant.

(2) No person shall be arrested under this section unless the arrest of that person is reasonably necessary for the protection of the prescribed person.

(3) For the purpose of subsection (1) the constable shall take into account

- (a) the seriousness of the act constituting the alleged breach;
- (b) the time that has elapsed since the commission of the alleged breach;
- (c) the restraining effect of other persons or circumstances on the respondent;
- (d) the need for a cooling-off period.
- (4) Where an arrest is made under this section
- (a) the person arrested shall be entitled to make a telephone call to one person of his choice, other than the prescribed person;
- (b) the constable who made the arrest shall inform the person arrested, as soon as practicable after the arrest, of the right conferred by paragraph (a) of this subsection.

Issue of warrant.

28. Where the Court is satisfied by information given on oath, that
- (a) there are reasonable grounds to suspect that a prescribed person on premises has suffered injury or is in imminent danger of suffering further physical injury at the hands of a person to whom this Act applies and the prescribed person needs assistance to prevent or deal with the injury; and
  - (b) a police officer is refused permission to enter the premises for the purpose of giving assistance to the prescribed person;

the court may issue a warrant authorising a police officer to enter the premises specified in the warrant at any time within 24 hours after the issue of the warrant and subject to any conditions specified in the warrant, to take such action as is necessary to prevent the commission or repetition of the offence or a breach of the peace or to protect life or property.

Grant of bail.

29. (1) Where the court is required to determine whether to grant bail in respect of an offence committed under this Act the court shall take into account, inter alia,

- (a) the need to ensure that a prescribed person is protected from violence or harassment;
- (b) the welfare of a child, where the defendant or the victim of the alleged offence has custody of the child;
- (c) any hardship that may be caused to the defendant or to members of the family if bail is not granted;
- (d) the defendant's record with regard to the commission of violent acts and whether there is evidence on record of physical or emotional abuse of children; and
- (e) any other matter which may be relevant to the case in question.

(2) Where bail is granted to the defendant, the court may direct that the defendant report at such times as are specified, at a specified police station.

Conditions on which bail may be granted.

30. (1) Where the defendant is charged with an offence under this Act, the court, in granting bail, may also order that the recognisance be subject to any of the following conditions as the court considers appropriate:

- (a) that the defendant does not harass or molest, a prescribed person;

The Domestic Violence Act, 2000 – 3.

- (b) that the defendant does not go to the premises in which a prescribed person lives or works; and
- (c) that the defendant does not be in a locality in which are situate the premises in which a prescribed person resides or works.

(2) Where a police officer believes on reasonable grounds that a person who has been granted bail subject to one or more of the conditions set out in subsection (1) has failed to comply with any condition of the recognisance, the police officer may apprehend the person without a warrant.

(3) Where

- (a) bail is granted to a person upon a condition imposed under subsection (1); and
- (b) the person contravenes or fails to comply with the condition, the bail shall be forfeited and the accused re-arrested.

31. In any proceedings under this Act a court may make any order by the consent of all the parties to such proceedings.

Orders by consent.

32. The court may, on making an order under this Act recommend either or both parties to participate in counselling of such nature as the court may specify.

Counselling.

33: (1) Any person aggrieved by the decision of the court may, within twenty-eight days after the decision of the court, appeal to the Court of Appeal.

Appeals.

(2) Except where the court which makes an order under this Act otherwise directs, the operation of such order shall not be suspended by virtue of an appeal under this section, and every such injunction or other order may be enforced in the same manner and in all respects as if no appeal under this section is pending.

34. (1) The rights conferred on any person in respect of any property by an order made under this Act shall be subject to the rights of any other person entitled to the benefit of any mortgage, security, charge or encumbrance affecting the property if such mortgage, security, charge or encumbrance was registered before the order was registered or if the rights of that other person entitled to that benefit arise under an instrument executed before the date of the making of the order.

Protection of mortgagee.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in any enactment or in any instrument, no money payable under any such mortgage, security, charge or encumbrance shall be called up or become due by reason of the making of an order under this Act.

Assistance to victims of domestic violence.

35. Whenever a police officer intervenes in a case of domestic violence, the police officer shall, as soon as possible, take all reasonable measures within his power to prevent the victim of domestic violence from being subject to violence again and shall also take the following steps:

- (a) where a victim indicates that he has suffered injuries, though not visible, which require medical assistance, the police officer shall assist the victim to obtain medical treatment as soon as possible;
- (b) where a victim of domestic violence expresses concern for his safety, the police officer shall assist the victim in getting to a place of safety;
- (c) where a victim of domestic violence request it, a police officer shall protect a victim by accompanying the victim when the victim is taking his personal belongings from a place where the respondent may reside;
- (d) advise the victim of domestic violence on the importance of preserving the evidence; and
- (e) inform the victim as to his rights and of services which may be available to assist him, whether they are government or private services.

Preparing of reports.

36. (1) Where a police officer intervenes in an incident of domestic violence, he shall prepare a written report relating to the incident, and the report shall contain the allegations of the persons involved and the witnesses, the type of investigation conducted and how the incident was resolved.

(2) A police officer in charge of a police station shall ensure that all records of domestic violence are properly compiled so as to facilitate easy reference to data.

(3) A police officer in charge of a police station shall ensure that confidentiality is maintained with respect to the identity of persons involved in cases of domestic violence.

Role of Ministry in alleviating
domestic violence.

37. The Ministry responsible for Women's Affairs or Gender Affairs, where such a Ministry is established, shall be responsible for

- (a) promoting and developing education programmes for the prevention of domestic violence;
- (b) studying, investigating and publishing reports on the domestic violence problem in Saint Kitts and Nevis, its manifestations and scope;
- (c) identifying groups and sectors in society in which domestic abuse is manifested and educating the groups and sectors in order to make them aware of the skills required to combat domestic violence;

- (d) creating awareness among society with regard to the needs of victims of domestic violence and their families;
- (e) developing strategies to encourage changes in the policies and procedures of government agencies in order to improve their response to the needs of the victims of domestic violence;
- (f) conducting programmes on information support and counselling services for victims of domestic violence;
- (g) encouraging the establishment of shelters for victims of domestic violence;
- (h) encouraging programmes of service for boys and girls who come from homes where there is abuse and violence;
- (i) providing training and orientation services for persons who assist in the treatment and counselling of victims of domestic violence and abuse;
- (j) analyzing and carrying out studies on the need for education and retaining of persons who engage in conduct that constitute domestic violence and abuse, and for their rehabilitation.

38. Rules of Court may be made for the purpose of regulating the practice and procedure of the court in proceedings under this Act, and such rules may provide for such matters as are necessary for giving full effect to the provisions of this Act and for the due administration of the Act.

Rules of Court.

39. Nothing in this Act shall be regarded as removing any jurisdiction which the Supreme Court may have in respect of the matters referred to under this Act.

Jurisdiction.

40. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to have altered any right which a spouse may have to ownership of property.

Ownership of property.

41. The Minister may make regulations for the better carrying out of the provisions of this Act, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Minister may make regulations

Regulations.

- (a) prescribing the form of any application required to be made under this Act;
- (b) prescribing the form of notice of proceedings under this Act;